

Getting example data

You can get a full set of Example datasets from within the software. To access them click Help > Get Examples... and choose the folder to place them in. The default name for this folder is 'Examples_P8'. These datasets are used and referred to in the software documentation (including this book!).

We highly recommend working through the manuals available on our Learning Hub, and replicating the examples given there with the Example datasets. This is an excellent way to familiarize yourself with the software and its many routines.
